course of the United States thus far unexceptionable.

Mr. Clayton now evidently regards a rupture with Spain as unavoidable.

The letters from Europe we publish this morning will be found unusually varied and interesting. Among them is one from a correspondent at Constantinople, on whose contents we have remarked elsewhere. We also especially invite our readers' attention to an able and striking exhibit of the present state and prospects of France and England from Hugh Doherty, and to a sparkling daguerreotype of Life in Paris drawn by the diamond-pointed pen of an old acquaintance of theirs, (G. W. C.) whose letters from France and Italy have often graced the columns of The Tribune.

Congress, Yesterday.

In the House Mr. McCLERNAND, from the Committee on Federal Relations, reported a bill amendatory of the act to carry into efand the Ottoman Porte. Mr. Bugg from the same Committee, reported a bill granting indemnity for French Spoliations prior to 1800. Both bills were committed to the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. BAYLY from the Committee of Ways the fiscal year ending June 30, 1851. Also a bill to supply deficiencies in the Judicial ending the 30th of the present month. The House went into Committee of the Whole, was put aside and the Judicial Deficiency bill taken up. After a sharp discussion the Committee rose and the bill was passed.

The Senate, after voting 17 to 28 not to adjourn over till Monday, took up the Omnibus and rejected the amendment of Mr. CLEMENS to pay Texas one million of dollars for her claim to the disputed Territory, 8 to 30. The question then recurring on Mr. TURNEY's amendment to strike out the entire section in regard to the boundary of Texas, the subject was discussed by Messrs. KING, BUTLER, RUSK, HALE, BERRIEN and Benton, and was finally rejected by 3 majority, 24 to 27.

A Swindle as is a Swindle-The Public Printing.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, June 11. There are several little errors in the mannever gets done. 2. Much of it never ough to be done. 3. It has been very badly done. 4. Men are found to undertake it at ruinous ly low prices for honest work, thereby shutting out the fair dealer from competition. and then endeavoring to reimburse their losses and over-fill their pockets by the grossest gouging. For example:

The printing of the last Congress was bid for and taken very low by an Albany firm. They know how to do good work, but they did the other sort, using paper that a quar ter of decent Bohea should be ashamed to be caught in. But they went through with it some how and pocketed their full pay, and have since talked of walking into the affections of Congress for an extra allowance of Twenty Thousand dollars or such a trifle, which they will get of course-in a horn. The days of Galphinage in the matter of acts for the relief of this or that functionary or contractor are very nearly run out in these diggings. There was a new bidding in February of last year for the Printing of the present Congress, and among several low bidders, Messrs. Trenholm and Belt, journeymen employed in The Union office, cut under all the rest. Their sureties were Thomas steadily and earnestly pressed forward? Have Ritchie, Editor of the Union aforesaid, and Gen. Thomas H. Bayly, now Chairman of barrassing controversies to a decision? And have the Ways and Means in the House-a good we not been steadily resisted and impeded by the spot for the Public Printer to have a surety In short, Father Ritchie was the real being to secure the work first, and look out tion? But for this resistance of the minority, we for the profits afterward. And one of the might have had this measure before us two mo means whereby the deficiencies of the rat earlier than it was presented. Have they not prices at which they volunteered to take the work are to be made up has just been officially developed by a Report from the Senate's Printing Committee, through Mr. for indefinite postponement, which was withdrawn as soon as the Senate was ready to vote upon it? Borland, its Chairman.

The case is this: The Supreme Court at its term of 1848-9, decided two important cases involving the right of the cities where Immigrants land from Europe to lay a tax dignation! on such Immigration. The question was important to New-York, Beston, and a few his grotesque little person into all manner of un other places-and somebody moved in the seemly contortions, while he endeavored to express Senate that the official report of the case and bis inexpressible indignation and amazement at Senate that the official report of the case and decision be printed for the use of the Senate. He beat out two or three of Mr. Clay's suggestions This was traveling out of the record, but the very thin, and made of them a speech quite respec motion provailed, and 1,250 copies were table-in length. But the steam had been getting to print ten thousand extra copies! and this perfectly absurd and wasteful motion, though

Gov. Sawang year briefly and good. opposed, was carried. The presumption of joined. He had intended to say or to intimate only those voting for it of course was that it that this extraordinary combination of discordant would be printed off the types already set up, and would cost very little. No matterthere was not a shadow of need of the printing, and the burden inflicted by it on the postage-paying public, through the franked distribution of such a bulk of useless matter, portunited to measures they were instructed to rewhich not a thousand persons cut of three

The first 1,250 copies were printed by Messrs. Tippin & Streeper, Printers (in part) to the last Congress; they made it a pamph-Mr. CLAYTON has dispatched instructions let of 152 pages; so that the 1,250 copies pages to 186, and charged for printing the Mr. Bulwer has given assurances that ten thousand copies the monstrous sum of England will not interfere, considering the Thirty-Seven Thousand Two Hundred Dollars, but generously consented to forgive Uncle Sam all but Twelve Thousand Five Hundred Dollars, in consideration of some little doubt about the justice of the charge?

How a doubt? He assumed that this job was of a particular class, for which he was entitled to receive "two dollars per page per hundred copies"-a right jolly price as any man ever heard of, a touch above California. But there was no such stipulation in his contract—the words "per page" were a sheer interpolation of his own-a gloss or increase by construction which such a devotee of "the Resolutions of '98" as Father Ritchie should have shrunk from with horror. If the work were to be paid for according to Tippin & Streepers contract, the total charge for it should have been $5224; if under Part A. of Belt's own contract (which is the true construction) the charge for it should have been $6571. Under Part C. of the same, it would have amounted to $1,791. Even had it been executed under feet the Treaty between the United States the old Joint Resolution of 1819, fixing the exorbitant rates of former years, it would have been swelled to $2,8644-a most abominable price. Yet for this useless, miserable job, for which they were entitled to charge $6571, the present contractors had the brass to charge $37,200, fall down to and Means, reported appropriation bills for $12,500, and that sum they have pocketed. the Post Office and Indian Departments for Of course, Controller Whittlesey will wish to disallow the charge when Secretary Dickens's account of the disbursement of the late department of the Government for the year Contingent Fund comes before him to be audited; but what good will that do? Has it not been settled by an opinion of Atterney and the California question being in order Gen. Reverdy Johnson that the Controller cannot disallow an account approved by the President of the Senate—that he must pass it whether he considers it just or not? And of course it has been smuggled by the Chair somehow, and the money is gone. Nobody pays back to the Treasury. And he who grabbed it is savagely virtuous over the payment of the Galphin Claim, which was bad enough, certainly, but seems to have been a real and just claim to start upon, though not against the United States. The Galphins should have been paid long ago by Georgia; but who ought ever to have paid this monstrous charge of Ritchie & Co. at a rate which would make a common Bible cost twenty dollars? -Is there no stopping these perpetually succeeding leaks in the Treasury? What shall be done when even the noisiest watchagement of the Printing of Congress. 1. It dogs about the building fall to gorging themelves at this gluttonous rate? H. G.

Editorial Correspondence.

Washington, Thursday, June 13, '50. We had a grand opening in the Senate this morn ing. First, Mr. WEBSTER, in his carpest, massive manner, argued against striking out the Texas see tion of the bill, embracing the settlement of the Boundary, compensation to Texas for surrendering her claim to New Mexico, &c. &c. He was grave, deliberate, impressive, forcible-as indeed he nev

Gov. SEWARD followed in reply. He opposed he amendment on many grounds, but mainly cause of his determined opposition to every part of the bill. He would vote to kill the bill as a whole, and to kill it in detail-to decapitate it or take it joint from joint. He considered this bill the great obstacle to action on the part of Congress-that it had already delayed the public business by months, and was still obstructing and preventing legislation pressingly needed by the Country. Let this ag gregation of incongruous measures be withdrawn let the several subjects included therein be taken up separately and acted on, and Congress might promptly and beneficently perform its duty to the Country.

Mr. CLAY sprung up as Gov. S. concluded. Th Senator from New York charges the friends of this bill with obstructing the progress of public business. I am amazed at this charge. We, the majority of the Senate, obstructing business? Have we no we not been uniformly anxious to bring these em-Senator from New-York and those who act with him? Have they not sustained every proposition for delay? Did they not waste weeks in opposing fought us in this spirit at every subsequent step Did they not propose to lay the matter over for a week after the death of Mr. Calboun? And have we not just seen days wasted by them on a motion We of the majority press for action, progress, de. cision; the other side has fought for delay, inaction postponement. Yet we are accused of obstructing the action of Congress! I repel the charge with in measures in one bill had inevitably delayed and prevented action on the part of Congress, and to that he adhered. Senators were required by this hill to vote for or against measures they approved in combination with measures they utterly detestsist. It was this violation of all precedent and the obvious maxims of sound legislation, which required one thing to be acted on at a time which had obstructed and prevented action. It was as though the majority of a Court had decided, instead of taking up the cases on their calendar singly-and thus disposing of them, to combine them all in one issue, swear all the witnesses, hear all the lawyers, and send out the jury instructed to ren der one general verdict for the plaintiffs or defendants on all the cases taken together. If the minority of the Court should resist this, and stand for the old way of trying each case by itself, they might be accused of resisting and defeating action But would that be just?

Gen. Tunney, of Tenn. next got the floor, and made a speech dead against the Texas provisions of this bill, as robbing Texas of a large territory. and organizing it as New-Mexico, and thus transferring it into Free instead of Slave Soil. He esteemed this outrageous, and did not see how any Southern man could abide it.

Col. Beston next began to speak-slowly, in a ow tone, and not impressively. He soon sent me ato the House.

But I will not speak of the day's doings in the Hall. They were a little more belligerent than vesterday's but the result was the same-000 .-Foomes of Ga. made an ugly speech against the DUER of our State, and ex Speaker WISTHROP. BAKER of Iil. also spoke pretty well. You will have the substance by telegraph. But what use of talking ? We want votes. The ultra Southerners were violent, but they are few. HALL of Mo. (strong ly anti-Benton) declared himself in favor of Califor nia as she is. There will not be forty votes against her on the final Yeas and Nays. But Oa! that seems such a weary way off! I shall quit to night and go home. There is little hope of any decisive

There was a vote by Yeas and Nays at the outset this merning which may be misapprehended t was on going into Committee on the California bill, which many strong friends of the bill resisted at the moment because they wished first to take up the Mint bill, &c. now lying on the Speaker's table and have them referred and printed. They would have been ready to go into Committee in half an hour at furthest.

r State are in ill health. Mr. McKissock is absent. - By the way, I am assured that the Election Committee did substantially decide the Iowa case in Mr. Miller's favor, and that Mr. McGaughey's return will be the signal for action. Thompson has ust put forth a pamphlet, which I think will hurt his case. He does not deny that Miller received the most votes, but wants the Mormons disfran-chised because his own party didn't organize their election districts right. The Hungarian Refugees in Turkey. The letter of our correspondent at Constantinople, published in The Tribune this morning, shows that a great number of the Hungarian refugees now in Turkey are in a condition of extreme want and suffering. Those who, driven by starvation and misery, have apostatized from their religion, have been provided for by the Turkish Government, while such as still adhere to the Christian faith are utterly destitute, and with no resource except the small, and now exhausted contributions of private charity. They are indeed not the leaders of the Magyars who are thus afflicted; Kossuth and the more prominent men, in compliance with the contract made with the Austrian Government, are kept as prisoners in the interier of Asia Minor, and of course taken care of by the Government which subjects them to restraint. The sufferers of whom our correspondent speaks in such urgent terms, are subaltern officers and private soldiers who escaped into Turkey with the rest and have been set at liberty by the Porte.

These unfortunate men certainly have claims upon this country. Their situation appeals to us as Republicans and as Christians. They suffer because they fought for Liberty against oppression, and because they will not even in this extremity, abandon the faith of their fathers. About the desperation of the case there can be no doubt. The statements of our correspondent may be received with absolute confidence. We hope they will be felt in their full force by the people of this country. We ought to save these soldiers of Liberty, these immoveable adherents of Christianity from starvation. The appeal is made to us. Let it be worthily answered.
